

NYSE Euronext is pleased to invite you to join us in Paris on October 7-9 for the International Life Science gathering of the year: EuroBio 2008.

As the premier marketplace for biotechnology in Europe, NYSE Euronext is proud to be the Programme Partner for this conference, which has been designated The Life Science Event of the EU Presidency.

In this letter, I would like to underscore the importance and the scope of EuroBio 2008.

EuroBio 2008 will bring together more than 5000 participants – leaders at the intersection of industry, policy, research and financial community who will represent 33 countries across Europe, North and South America, Asia and Oceania.

Taking place at the Palais des Congrès, it is the largest forum of its kind in Europe and it combines:

- 1) High calibre plenary presentations with a series of discussions and debates on the challenges facing Europe's biotech communities;
- 2) Business Partnering event, and
- 3) Exhibition area and Career Fair

As Program Partner, we have been active in developing the program agenda and we have invited friends and colleagues in the industry to share their expertise. Among the highlights:

Monday, October 6:

Along with OECD, NYSE Euronext will host a special session entitled: "BioFueling the Future." The symposium, to be held at the OECD office (2 rue André Pascal - 75016 PARIS) will feature the OECD General Secretary. Discussion will focus on the changing world environment and the exciting new emerging markets for alternative energies.

Tuesday, October 7:

4:30 p.m. Opening Plenary Keynote address: Cathy Kinney, President and co-chief operating officer, NYSE Euronext will speak on the topic of Innovation: An Engine for Economic Growth.

Wednesday, October 8:

4:30-6:00 p.m. NYSE Euronext Panel, “Do’s and Don’ts for a Biotech IPO.”
Moderated by Philippe Pouletty, Chairman, France Biotech. (Room 252 Palais des Congrès)

Wednesday and Thursday, October 8-9:

NYSE Euronext companies are invited to register to participate in the business partnering sessions on Wednesday and Thursday .

EuroBio 2008 is an ambitious and visionary international forum that will offer biotech executives – from both private and public companies – a number of unique networking and partnering opportunities, as well as insight on new perspectives for their financing and visibility through financial markets.

In addition, there is another important mission of the program: your interaction with other industry influencers and visionaries from around the globe will help set the stage for a White Paper titled “Call for Change Report” which will be presented this year in London (at the Genesis meeting on December 9), in Stockholm, Milan and Paris on March 17, 2009, and other leading BioClusters around the world throughout 2009.

We sincerely hope you will join us in Paris next month for The Life Science Event of the EU Presidency.

Sincerely,

Martine Charbonnier
NYSE Euronext
Executive Director, European Listing
